“Creating Better Outcomes and Greater Staff Satisfaction Through the Science of Trauma-Informed Care”

We hear about trauma-informed care wherever we go, but what is it and what does it look like day-to-day? Trauma-informed care is more than evidenced-based practices; it is an entire culture change. And now we can use the science of the brain and body to create workplaces that sustain energetic and hopeful staff and create lasting change in consumers. This presentation will include a practical tool kit for participants to use in their agencies.
