

Kenny Barajas

DNP, RN, CEN

Reviewer – Disease Specific Care
The Joint Commission

Dr. Barajas is currently Joint Commission Disease-Specific Care Stroke Reviewer. In this role he assists organizations with meeting the requirements for all levels of comprehensive stroke center certification. He enjoys helping organization leaders, and clinical stroke teams to continuously improve patient care and patient comes.

Dr. Barajas earned his Doctor of Nursing Practice degree from the University of Maryland.

His skill sets include critical care, flight nursing and education and research.