

Stacey Paul

MSN, RN, APN, PMHNP-BC
Projector Director, Clinical
Department of Standards and Survey Methods
The Joint Commission

Stacey Paul, MSN, RN, APN, PMHNP-BC is a project director, clinical in the Department of Standards and Survey Methods at The Joint Commission.

Stacey is the project lead on The Joint Commission's National Patient Safety Goal on suicide prevention in healthcare settings. She has experience in inpatient, partial hospitalization, residential, and outpatient settings in psychiatry.

Prior to this position, Stacey worked for Lurie Children's Hospital, Children's Home and Aid, Mount Sinai Hospital, and has most recently worked as a nurse practitioner in Child and Adolescent Psychiatry at Alexian Brothers Behavioral Health Hospital.